

Since signing up for Indiana's Do Not Call list, I no longer receive unwanted telemarketing calls. I enjoy freedom from such solicitations. I still receive solicitations through US Mail and prefer to make purchase decisions after reading materials sent to me. I do not believe the Do Not Call laws prevent businesses from promoting their products or services. As a marketer myself, I understand both sides and know that unsolicited calls to private homes is not the only way to reach consumers.

Sincerely,
Thomas A. Payne
Terre Haute, IN